This year the Year Three classes have become involved with an organisation called Warrior Mail as a community outreach project. Each month we learn about a seriously ill child in the Western Australian community who needs a reason to smile. We work together to come up with ideas of things that child might like and create a package to send off to them. One of our creations, a personalised superhero cape was even featured on a news report earlier this term! We felt like superheroes when we saw our package be delivered and see the smile we helped to put on the face of a special little boy in May.

If you’d like to view the news clip to learn more about Warrior Mail, scan this code with a QR code reader app on an Ipad, Iphone or android device.

Earlier this term the Year Three classes completed their first ever NAPLAN tests. To make our writing preparation fun, we wrote persuasive texts about which superhero is better than all the others. There were a lot of fantastic arguments that convinced us that most superheroes are pretty impressive!
